

6516208059.txt

I love my XM. FM radio has become so stale and boring that I almost never listen to it. Although XM will not be broadcasting local traffic and weather in my area, they should definitely be allowed to do it. It will make travelling so much easier, as I can just turn to a station that I know will have the info I need, when I need it, instead of having to flip around the dial waiting for information to come up.